

Writing Challenge

How well do you understand the message in "The Wishing Tree: A Building Biology Inspired Fairy Tale?" Do you feel you know enough about these concepts to teach somebody else?

In 300-400 words, write a brief article that teaches others about the concepts in the book. What are 3 healthy indoor living tips that can be communicated to your reader? Be sure to explain what the healthy practice is and why it is important. For example, you should clean up food spills because they can attract pests.

Once you're done, consider asking a partner or another adult to help you edit it. When you feel that you're ready to share it with others, you can post it on social media, write a blog post, or email it to some friends or family members. There are many people that can benefit from these idea, and you simply sharing your thoughts can help educate many other people.

If you're feeling particularly ambitious, consider submitting it to a local newspaper. Perhaps hundred or thousands of people might be able to learn from your ideas!
